STIPULATION AND ORDER

This case is before the court on a request by third-party litigants in a related case (7:19-cv-00403-RDP) who seek access to discovery materials produced in this case. Specifically, the defendants in the related case, BuzzFeed, Inc., Ben Smith, and Katie J.M. Baker (the “BuzzFeed Defendants”), seek to obtain the discovery materials produced in this case for use in a related defamation action brought against them by the plaintiffs in that case, Adam Jones and Joshua Hastings (the “Buzzfeed Plaintiffs”). The Buzzfeed Plaintiffs have alleged that they were defamed by two BuzzFeed articles, which reported on an investigation into the events connected to Megan Rondini.

This court recognizes that certain portions of the discovery materials produced in the Rondini action are relevant to the claims and defenses in the BuzzFeed action. Consequently, the court concludes that there is good cause for making the Rondini discovery materials available to the Buzzfeed Parties. Further, the court DIRECTS that the categories of documents and materials listed in Exhibit A below be made available to the Buzzfeed Plaintiffs and the BuzzFeed Defendants; provided, however, that the BuzzFeed Parties SHALL (1) abide by the terms of any applicable protective order, and (2) cover the reasonable expense of copying the Rondini discovery.

For all these reasons, subject to the applicable protective order, the above-referenced Rondini discovery SHALL be made available to the BuzzFeed Parties for copying on or before April 16, 2020.

DONE and ORDERED this March 16, 2020.
